Mendes-France Girds For Parliamentary Showdown On Plan

Tells People Economy Will Be Improved

PARIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—French Pierre Mendes-France, girding himself for a parliamentary showdown on the plan for adding West German support to Europe's defenses, told the French people tonight he is determined to make far-reaching economic accords with the Bonn government.

The Premier addressed the nation in his weekly broadcast. He declared economic agreements would raise French and German living standards.

"France and Germany are two countries whose nearness to one another and whose resources and production require their close association together," he said.

He reminded the French that West Germany is their best customer and the "second most important provider of goods" and said such facts mean the two countries need each other.

"Because of this," he continued, "we are determined to conclude accords (with West Germany) of long duration such as will assure permanent markets for French wheat, sugar, milk products, etc."

"It is also useful to encourage associations between French and German business and financial interests with the aim of making the best of our respective resources, increasing production, and making research to find markets elsewhere in the world."

Mendes-France said that since the signing of an agreement yesterday with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on the Saar's future, that industrially rich territory is no longer an obstacle to French-German cooperation. He added the agreements to Europeanize the Saar within the French economy was not "achieved without pain" but that it "satisfied rights and interests of France in a way we had called for in vain for a very long time."

He discounted the fears held by some Frenchmen that close economic cooperation would give German efficiency supremacy, calling this the small view. He said it was not just a case of dividing present limited markets but to "enlarge our fields of activity and our markets." In this connection, he said "reforms of our economy and the modernization of our agriculture and industry" are primary objectives.

Leader Hits Anti-Labor Legislation
GALLITZIN, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic candidate for governor, said today that "anti-labor legislation enacted by Republican policy-makers" will help Democrats in the Nov. 2 election.

"The anti-labor legislation enacted by Republican policy-makers, coupled with the paralyzing rise of unemployment will give workers a double incentive to throw off the yoke of governmental discrimination and economic impotency at Harrisburg," Leader said in a prepared speech.

"The men of labor—those employed, those partially employed and those out of work—are not deluded by Republican efforts to whitewash an economic decline," the York County senator added.

"Pennsylvanians, regardless of political faith, realize now more than ever that state government, under Republican rule, has been stripped of all basic integrity and political morality," Leader declared.

Turning to misers, Leader said that "after many years of Republican pledges which haven't turned out right, miners have a right to be skeptical."

"Someone should tell Mr. (Lt. Gov. Lloyd H.) Wood that the era of political fairy tales is ended. People out of jobs do not want a free trip to the moon. They want work, food on the table, clothes for their children and the right to walk in dignity and independence among other men."

DR. SAMUEL SHEPPARD (left) receives the moral support of his brothers, both doctors, as he shakes hands with Richard and Stephen looks on at the close of the day's proceedings in his murder trial in Cleveland. This is the only time the brothers can have personal contact. Sheppard, so far unemotional at the trial, came close to tears as prospective jurors were questioned on their feelings in the brutal bludgeoning of the young osteopath's wife, Marilyn.

Sheppard Trial Shapes Up As Battle Between Two Expert Cross-Examining Attorneys

By ART EVERETT
CLEVELAND, Oct. 24 (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard's first degree murder trial resumes tomorrow. It is shaping up as a classic duel of cross examiners.

The state is eager to get at the 30-year-old osteopath if and when he takes the witness stand to defend himself against a charge that he beat his wife, Marilyn, 31, to death last July 4. She was four months pregnant.

"Whatever happened on that night Dr. Sheppard will have to tell us," said Asst. Prosecutor John J. Mahon over the weekend. "If we get him on cross examination he'll be asked about everything."

The defense claims as of now it plans to put Sheppard on the stand. However, the way has been left open for a change of mind.

The defense claims as of now it equally eager to cross examine pretty Susan Hayes, 24, the state's star witness against Sheppard. She purportedly has admitted intimacies with the defendant. The alleged love affair is about the motive the state can offer in trying to prove Sheppard killed his wife.

Sheppard has claimed that a bushy-haired intruder killed his wife in her bedroom last Independence Day and knocked him unconscious when he came to her aid.

First order of business Monday is to line up a final jury. This might take some time.

Twelve jurors were tentatively seated during the first five trial days last week.

Eisenhower Names Six GOP Congressional Incumbents Needing "Little" Assistance

By L. U. LESLIE
GETTYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower placed himself firmly behind Pennsylvania's Republican state and congressional candidates Saturday at a precedent-setting endorsement by name political rally on his farm overlooking historic Gettysburg battlefield.

The GOP candidates, headed by Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood for governor, hailed the President's action as giving the Republican campaign in pivotal Pennsylvania "a big push" as it went into the final phase before the Nov. 2 election.

Pakistan Emergency Declared

KARACHI, Pakistan, Oct. 24 (AP)—The governor general of crisis-ridden Pakistan declared a state of emergency today, dissolved the Constituent Assembly, and dismissed the Cabinet of Prime Minister Mohammed Ali.

Within hours Mohammed Ali announced in a broadcast to the nation he had accepted Gov. Gen. Ghulam Mohammed's mandate to form a new government. He said he had formed a seven-man Cabinet to deal with the country's "hour of crisis."

The new ministry includes Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan, commander in chief of Pakistan's army, and M. A. I. Ispahani, recently appointed ambassador to London.

Mohammed Ali cut short a visit to the United States and flew home last night to face a gathering political storm. He returned with substantially increased American aid, which should help him in dealing with the economic side of his manifold problems.

In his broadcast tonight, Mohammed Ali said "recent decisions of the Constituent Assembly provoked a storm in the country" and "caused internal strain and bickering, personal, sectional, and provincial rivalries." He asserted the emergency action was in the larger interest of the country.

The Constituent Assembly, which also has been performing day to day legislative chores, has roused the impatience of many Pakistanis. It has been unable to draft a basic charter for the country in the seven years since Britain gave Pakistan and India independence. Both countries are still members of the British Commonwealth.

Mohammed Ali's own Moslem League party, which was largely instrumental in winning Pakistan's independence, has dominated the Assembly. It had 58 of the 78 members.

The governor general issued a proclamation through the Cabinet secretariat saying that "after having considered the political crisis with which the country is faced," he had "with deep regret come to the conclusion that constitutional machinery has broken down."

In declaring the state of emergency, Ghulam Mohammed said the Constituent Assembly "has lost the confidence of the people and can no longer function." He emphasized that "ultimate authority vests in the people, who will decide all issues, including constitutional affairs. Elections will be held as early as possible."

Jenner Says American GI's In World War Two Were Taught Commie Line In Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) said today American soldiers in World War II "were taught the Communist line by men wearing the American uniform" from the time they entered the Army until they were mustered out.

Jenner, the subcommittee chair, announcing publication by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of testimony taken at public hearings in July and August about the Army's information and education program during World War II.

Jenner, the subcommittee chairman, said the testimony showed that the program, "to which every GI was subjected, was heavily loaded with pro-Soviet propaganda and staffed in many instances by men with Communist records."

His statement continued: "The orientation program of I and E was supposed to be a morale builder for new recruits and for the sick and wounded and exhausted soldiers in the hospitals and rest camps. So what did it consist of?"

"Publications of the Institute of Pacific Relations, which this subcommittee found was regarded by Soviet officials as an instrument of Communist propaganda; the Soviet Information Bulletin, America and the like."

"The writing was done and the troops instructed, in many cases, by men who later used the Fifth Amendment as a protection against self-incrimination to avoid revealing their Communist records."

Jenner said that "the chief of the key program section of the orientation branch, Lt. Col. Julius Schreiber, was one of those who relied on the Fifth Amendment" in testifying before the subcommittee.

He noted that Schreiber swore he is not now a Communist party member and has not been since Jan. 1, 1941, but that he refused to answer questions about any Communist connections prior to that time.

Schreiber, a Washington, D. C. psychiatrist, testified at a July 7 hearing that during the entire time he was in the Army he was not a Communist, participated in no Communist activities and saw no Communist activities.

Schreiber said that throughout the war he was a patriotic American citizen and was so regarded by his superiors and colleagues. "I am thoroughly opposed to communism," he said.

His job was primarily one of editing, he said, and he told the subcommittee in reference to some of the material used during the war that "we were fighting the Axis, and the Soviets, the Chinese, the French and British were our Allies."

Heavy Duels With Soviets Are Expected

PARIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Western diplomats, finally on their way toward freeing and rearming the West Germans, hoped today for finalization of the Paris accords by mid-1955. But they expected heavy dueling between Moscow and the West over the German question to mark the months ahead.

Soviet Russia's bid last night for a Big Four conference in November on a German peace settlement is an example.

It came only a few hours after the foreign ministers of 15 Western nations signed protocols to three treaties that, if and when ratified by the national parliaments, are to line up West Germany as a free and equal partner in defense against Communist aggression.

The United States, Britain and France are reported standing by two tight conditions for any such conference:

1. Russia must agree in advance to the holding of free, supervised German-wide elections for an all-German government.
2. Russia must act in advance to conclude a treaty of independence for occupied Austria.

The Allies laid down these conditions in notes to Moscow last month.

The Kremlin appeared to have made a move at offering to meet the conditions. But American, British and French foreign ministers were reported satisfied the Russian answer is no more than a diplomatic attempt to defer or destroy the Paris agreements.

The various agreements would end the Allied occupation and rearm the West Germans under safeguards within a seven-nation Western European Union and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Twelve German divisions would bolster Allied lines guarding the Elbe.

But there are still vocal opponents of German rearmament in Western parliaments. The French-German accord on the Saar alone, providing for Europeanization of that coal-bearing, German-speaking border state, is already getting an unfriendly reception from legislators in both Paris and Bonn.

The Kremlin said yesterday a four-power foreign ministers' conference next month should discuss Western as well as Russian proposals for free all-German elections. It also said the Russian ambassador in Vienna is ready to discuss with his Western colleagues "questions concerning the conclusion of an Austrian state treaty."

There was a sting in the tail of the Russian note. Disarmament proposals now under U. N. study would be impossible if West Germany is to be remilitarized, it said.

The governments in Britain, France, West Germany and Italy are all under strong pressure from their political opponents to go into one more conference with Russia in hope of winning a reprieve for East-West cooperation.

Nevertheless U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France are known in their Paris meetings to have set their faces against any idea of parallel talks with the Russians while the program they brought to a head yesterday remains unrattified by their parliaments.

Once their program to free and rearm the West Germans is signed and started, they believe they will be in a position to talk things over with the Russians from a position of strength. Indeed Britain's Prime Minister Churchill is known to be nursing plans to try for a meeting with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov and President Eisenhower when that stage is reached — perhaps around next July.

Surprise Air Raid Test Due Any Minute During This Week

Closed Blinds Required In Newest Trial

A STATE-WIDE air raid alert may come at any minute between now and midnight Wednesday.

The surprise test may be during daylight hours or at night, said Paul Crawn, executive CD director of Monroe County.

It will be assumed a flight of enemy bombers has been spotted over Canada and heading for the Eastern U. S.

The alert will be fanned out from State headquarters. When the bell-and-lights system flashes yellow in county headquarters at the courthouse, county office will alert zone directors; they in turn will telephone township and borough directors.

Township and borough directors will use a variety of means to alert their volunteers: messenger, emergency broadcast or telephone.

For the first time residents will be required to pull the blinds. This will be requested even if the alert comes during the day, because blinds help prevent injury from flying glass.

In East Stroudsburg the red alert—meaning take cover, attack expected momentarily—will be sounded by three minutes of short blasts on the borough fire whistle, and simultaneous warbling of fire sirens.

In Stroudsburg arrangements have been completed to signal the red alert by three minutes of short blasts on the big whistle at Monroe Silk Mill.

Kenneth Barthold, plant manager, offered use of the plant's whistle to avoid any chance that borough residents would be without adequate warning in event of an alert.

Bell Telephone Co. manager Budd Van Horn said he would do his best to have a crew install a direct telephone line with auxiliary alarm bells in the plant this morning, to connect it with the CD office at the courthouse.

When the alert flashes, the courthouse CD office will relay the alarm to the Silk Mill watchman, who in turn will blow the public alarm... also a three-minute series of short blasts.

Stroudsburg council authorized installation of the phone at borough expense.

J. Fielding Vollers, East Stroudsburg director, said his warden and auxiliary police have received instructions to have residents pull shades or close blinds and to stay indoors. All traffic will be stopped and parked at the curb. License numbers will be taken of vehicles failing to follow auxiliary police instructions.

East Stroudsburg's Day St. fireman's building will be the scene of a CD auxiliary police training school organizational meeting at 7:30 p. m.

Instructor will be Arthur V. Jones, employed with a Scranton detective agency. Some CD men have already registered for the course.

Local Man Jailed In New Jersey Fatal Crash Trial

ORVILLE J. ZENTZ, 32, East Stroudsburg, has been sentenced to one to three years in New Jersey State prison on a charge of causing death by automobile.

Zentz was driver of a car in which a passenger, Lloyd Schroeder, 55, Stroudsburg, was killed Aug. 12. The car veered to the left side of Route 46 near Columbia, N. J., and into the path of an on-coming truck.

The truck driver, Elmo Updike, 23, Lodi, N. Y., was cleared of death by auto charges by the September session of Warren County Grand Jury.

Zentz originally pleaded innocent of the charge, later changed his plea to no defense. He said this was because he "could not remember" details of the accident, so would be unable to defend himself before a jury.

He was freed on $1,000 bond in custody of his counsel, Henry Eckel of Washington, N. J., until today, when he will be taken to the State prison at Trenton.

Warren County prosecutor Wilbur M. Rush told the court there was a "strong flavor of intoxication from frequenting a nearby tavern," according to investigation reports, and that Zentz drove his car on the wrong side of the highway a "considerable distance" before hitting the truck.

Heavy Equipment Moves In On Bangor Road Job Ending One-Man Corrective Fight

FINAL VICTORY in the fight for safety along the Bangor-East Bangor Highway was assured as heavy equipment moved into that area this week to begin the work of relocating a portion of that road and elimination of the danger to the traveling public.

Thus ended, too, a virtually one-man campaign waged over a period of nine years to alert the public to the danger of this "road along quarry holes," and to spur them onward in appeals to the state and local officials.

Victor P. Saveri, of East Bangor, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Safety, carried the battle through to victory with a continuous fight. Hundreds of letters were written, hundreds of telephone calls were made, dozens of visits to officials, high and low, by this citizen.

In his campaign, he circulated at least half a dozen petitions bearing a total of approximately 3,000 signatures. He communicated personally with the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of Highways, and District engineers.

Only a few months ago, Saveri POS of A Will Honor Walter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) will be awarded the Merit Medal for distinguished public service by the Patriotic Order Sons of America, it was announced today from the Washington offices of that organization.

The Patriotic Sons of America is the oldest patriotic fraternal order in America, having been founded December 10, 1847. The organization now has hundreds of units with a large membership throughout the Nation.

The announcement of the award praised Rep. Walter for his co-authorship with the late Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) of the McCarran-Walter Immigration and Nationality Act which "plugs the loopholes and removes the inequities in our immigration laws".

Rep. Walter was also lauded for his "patriotic achievements as a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in exposing those who seek to undermine our American institutions".

rore, Northampton, Lehigh and Carbon counties—which are affiliated in the Four County organization.

President Marsh informed the representatives that the Stroudsburg Fire Department was planning for one of the best conventions in years when the organization meets here next June. Indications are that the annual parade will exceed any held in some years. Further details will be announced when the executive committee meets again during the coming winter months.

The work now underway, involves relocation of the highway to a point north of its present site. This will remove the thoroughfare from the crest of several deep quarry pits; the present dangerous condition.

Keep Them On The Court

When such outstanding lawyers as former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper and former U. S. Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts appeal to their fellow Republicans to split their vote in the coming election in order to preserve the principle of an independent judiciary, there is certain to be a favorable reaction.

Both Mr. Roberts and Mr. Pepper—the former Senator and past chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar—are among the most distinguished members of the legal profession in Pennsylvania.

Their plea for the re-election of President Judge Chester H. Rhodes and Judge F. Clair Ross, incumbent Democrats, together with the GOP incumbent, Judge Robert E. Woodside, should help them pile up the votes of thousands of independent Republicans.

Former Sen. Pepper puts it this way: "In the contest for vacancies on the bench of the Superior Court political consideration should have no part. I intend to vote for President Judge Chester H. Rhodes who has served the court 20 years and Judge F. Clair Ross who has served for 10 years, as well as Judge Woodside."

"By so doing, I believe I will be contributing to the maintenance of an independent judiciary."

Says Mr. Roberts: "If they are qualified and have good records, they should not be placed in a position where they are required to engage in partisan campaigns in order to keep their places on the bench."

The State, Philadelphia and many local bar associations are actively working for the three judges on the same basis.

In line with the time honored battle to keep politics off the bench, this newspaper is supporting the candidacies of Judge Rhodes, Judge Ross and Judge Woodside. All three have outstanding records and are full deserving of bipartisan support.

By Any Other Name...

The distaff side, save in notable cases, has not been markedly diffident in most affairs, but comes now the surprising resentment of our female population to the Weather Bureau's habit of giving girls' name to a series of hurricanes.

Still very much in the public mind, of course, is Hurricane Hazel, a shrewish witch whose destructive activities covered a considerable area of our eastern states, and whose unpredictable wanderings in the Caribbean were not unlike the window-shopping maneuvers of many females.

Just why the girls should be so upset over the practice of calling hurricanes by their names is difficult for us to understand. Take Hazel, for example. Wouldn't you think that anyone named Hazel would be delighted to have such international attention? Think of the possibilities inherent in such appellations. Certainly preferable to many others.

Well, there is just no use in trying to follow the path of the reasoning, and probably nothing more should be said on the subject, yet before we abandon it we would like to express amazement, if that is the proper word to be used in describing our inability to comprehend the protests.

Anyway, we have a suspicion that there are just as many girls who like the idea of having hurricanes called by their names as there are those disliking it. May we not have a few expressions from those who think it wonderful for a high wind to cause their names to be carried in large, black type.

George Sokolsky Says...

Russians Have Made It A Primary Factor To Have Red China Recognized

The puzzle about the fighting over Quemoy and over the mainland of China in the vicinity of Amoy is beginning to be clear. First, Chiang Kai-shek tried to give the impression to the Red Chinese that he was ready for them, which meant that his American advisers authorized him to take a position. So there was some bombing of the mainland of China and Quemoy was bombed.

Then we were told that Walter S. Robertson of the State Department was in Formosa to advise Chiang to do no more attacking of the mainland. Then there were big headlines that Robertson was on Formosa for no such purpose. But the bombings stopped on both sides. So far as Chiang Kai-shek is concerned, he does not want to stop the bombings because he feels that they produce demoralizing conditions along the China coast at a time when the Red Chinese are unwilling to risk American intervention, but he is dependent upon the United States for military supplies which are only released to him in pursuance of American policy. He can only do such bombing as he has supplies. So the bombing more or less comes to a trickle.

Therefore, it is necessary to go back into the relations between the United States and Great Britain, between John Foster Dulles and Sir Anthony Eden, to discover if anything happened recently to change the American attitude toward Formosa. We know that at Geneva the relations between Dulles and Eden had deteriorated. Then we were informed that they had patched up their differences, which were principally about Far Eastern policies. Great Britain supporting the demands of Red China which the United States rejected. Then Nehru visits Mao Tse-tung and a counter-SEATO axis was arranged which includes Indonesia, Indochina, Burma and Nepal—and Ho Chi Minh and Chou En-lai announced that there will be no further military efforts in South-east Asia, which they could only do with the consent of the Kremlin.

Therefore, the picture seems to be that a quiet arrangement has been made to let the year 1954 pass without affecting the status quo in Asia. There is to be no fighting, no incursions into Thailand, no extension of the Soviet Universal State. It is hoped that if there are no sensations to aggravate American public opinion, it will be possible to arrange for Red China to be admitted into the United Nations.

In fact, both Chinas are to be in the United Nations, but Chiang Kai-shek's China will no longer be called China but the Republic of Formosa. It is doubtful whether Chiang would or could agree to any such proposition but I have been informed by long-standing personal friends on the island of Formosa that this proposal has already been made. I have not been told what the response has been. Incidentally, it was a similar proposal for the division of China between Communists and Nationalists made by Chiang by General George Marshall in 1946 which resulted in the Communist conquest of China. The Nationalist Chinese are fearful that ultimately this plan will eliminate Formosa altogether and that the Communist conquest of the East of Asia will be complete.

Meanwhile, many reports are afoot of meetings among some American business men to conduct a propaganda in favor of the recognition of Red China with the object of getting a share of the China trade, perhaps in co-operation with British companies. These business men hope that the Chinese Communists will give them a share of the China trade sufficient to justify an unpopular action, which would cease to be unpopular when the profits began to pour in. The delusion about profits may become evident or not, but the recognition of Red China by the United Nations and possibly by the United States will have been completed before the returns are in. This much needs to be faced: The Russians have made it a primary factor in their policy to have Red China recognized by the United Nations. Their argument is that Red China is the legitimate successor to Nationalist China, which, by revolt of the people, was unseated. Their evidence is that Red China holds the country, except Formosa and some other islands. Great Britain supports this position on the simple ground that possession is a fact. The pressure on the United States will continue to be enormous to conform to the British view.

Looking At Life

Nobody Has Yet Invented A "Happiness" Cosmetic

One of these days scientists will discover what makes human beings want to be what they ain't.

There is hardly a one among us who has not, at one time or other, or perhaps all the time, wanted to be somebody else than himself. Self-deception is probably one of the outstanding characteristics of the human race.

Else, why do you think the cosmetic manufacturers are showing such enormous profits? Or what, in your opinion, sells bras and corsets that almost make their wearers scream with pain? How about all the different hair dyes? And the shoulder pads for men? Or the elevator shoes? Or wigs and toupees? How about all the lies that are told about a person's age?

How about the little jalloppies that youngsters dress up with all kinds of gadgets to make them look like Cadillacs or Lincolns or Packards? And how about the crazy drivers who want to show the world that they are "as good as anybody else" and speed up their jalloppies until they crash into a tree or go down a ditch, just because they wanted to appear to be something which they were not?

At the recent convention of Police Chiefs, held in New Orleans, Dr. M. Kelley, police psychiatrist, told his hearers that these crazy drivers are really psychopathic cases. He said they are afflicted with a disease, just the same as drunks or dope fiends, and that their disease is so dangerous that they verge on "the homicidal or the suicidal."

Drivers like that are "out of contact with reality," he said, and to let them go on driving is simply catering to their hallucinations and delusions.

I don't think that these so-called hallucinations and delusions are peculiar only to drivers of automobiles. They are shared by a good many of us even while we are not behind the wheel.

Take that little clerk who stole $82,000 from the Staten Island, N. Y. bank in which he worked. A fellow doesn't usually get away with a theft like that, particularly if he takes his wife and three small kids along on the lam.

A couple of days after he disappeared, the police found $5,500 of the loot in a vegetable tray in the refrigerator, covered by some lettuce and tomatoes.

Don't think that I excuse the fellow for having committed the theft. But I wonder what delusions and hallucinations this 22-year-old bank teller, living in a $55 a month flat, had when he grabbed all that money and ran away.

I wonder what illusions any of us have when we try to make ourselves look younger, more beautiful, richer and more important than we are.

The bank teller will probably spend a number of years in prison. His life will be ruined, his family will suffer for many years for his dreams, which by now have probably turned into a nightmare.

And how about the rest of us, who have hallucinations and delusions about ourselves?

Aren't we ever living in fear that our sham will be discovered, and don't we know that when it is we will be older, poorer, less attractive and much less important to ourselves than we were before we put on the disguise? There may be all sorts of cosmetics to make you SEEM what you are not, but no one has as yet invented a happiness cream.

Try and Stop Me

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, distinguished British actor, journeyed to darkest Greenwich Village to watch a semi-pro theatrical group do what they could with Bernard Shaw's "Mrs. Warren's Profession." During the intermission, he was standing at the curb, toying with his monocle, when a drunk sashayed out of a neighboring bar and staggered straight into Sir Cedric. He recovered with some difficulty, spotted the monocle, and very grandly remarked, "Bless my soul, and when did you come over, Lord Plushbottom?" He then fell on his face.

On officer of the law stopped short when he observed a man proceeding down Main Street clad only in a barrel. "Ah, ha!" he exclaimed. "Been playing poker, eh?"

We just heard of a kid who tried hard to go on with his piano lessons but finally came to mother sobbing. "Mumme, I'll never make a good pianist. My smile is too small." ... Otto Preminger may be a great movie director but he looks semi-pro as a TV director. ... We don't dig the claim of the Netherlands Government that it went on for years taking top secret info from an American National Security Agency man assuming that it was perfectly okay because such exchanges had been permitted during a war. ... Ya mean Uncle Sam is never expected to keep a secret under any circumstances! That resounding groan you hear comes from millions of parents astonished by the declaration before a Senate Committee that the deluge of crime plots and brutalizing routines via video in the American home doesn't give a single child wrong ideas. ... How contemptuous of the welfare of the kids can you get? ... Incidentally, when does the Senate Committee which has been looking into TV grisly crime programs lose patience?

Fall Nuptial Ceremony At Grace Church

Miss Harriet Joan Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Hartman, of 321 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, became the bride of Leonard M. Borger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. H. Borger, of Kunkletown RD 1, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday before the candle-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

The impressive double-ring nuptial rites were solemnized before the chrysanthemum graced altar, by Rev. William F. Wundt, Grace Church pastor, in the presence of the respective families and a group of close friends.

The bride was attired in an ice-blue acetate street length dress with satiated ruffles, navy blue accessories and a corsage composed of pink roses. She was attended by Miss Margaret Smiley, of Scotrun, who served as her maid-of-honor. Gilbert W. Borger, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Miss Smiley wore a light rose satin street length dress, navy blue accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

The bride's mother was attired in a light brown crepe street length dress with matching accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue and white tulle street length dress with matching accessories and a red rosebud corsage.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents where a three tiered wedding cake and other tasty refreshments were enjoyed in the spirit of nuptial gaiety. The newlyweds left for a honeymoon to an unannounced shore destination in New Jersey.

The bride attended the East Stroudsburg High School and is employed as a nurse's aid at the General Hospital. The bridegroom was graduated from Polk Township High School in Kresgeville with the Class of 1951 and is employed as a stone mason with Rudy Moulter, of Kunkletown.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The human spirit, soaked in the slanting days of a warm October sun, steeped in the mahogany-rich colors of a waning autumn, surrounded by the music of high-stepping bands, somehow remained bubbling despite the defeat of their favorite team on the football field.

Victory would have filled their cup to overflowing, but even defeat couldn't dull the edge of their physical pleasure in the sights and sounds of a perfect Indian summer weekend.

It's a good thing we could soak up the sunshine over the weekend, because it looks as if we'll have little enough time this week. A fourth week in our social calendar is a peculiar thing. As a rule there are no big meetings like the first three weeks, but the fourth week is the week when the special interest groups come into their own.

Sunday school classes and circle meetings, board meetings and lodge groups. It's sort of a cozy week, in a way and gives us a chance to catch up on the telephoning and soliciting, the committee work and paper work that goes along with club activities. Oh yes, and the ironing and the mending, too.

Daughter For Gists

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gist, of Bangor, on Thursday at the General Hospital of Monroe County. The baby, their first, has been named Joanne Louise.

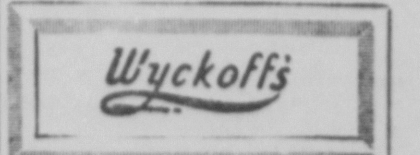

Mrs. Gist is the former Jane Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bush, North Eighth St., Stroudsburg.

My heart may have taken to the open road yesterday, to climb hills and kick around in piles of leaves wrung dry of their autumn colors. But not I—I was far too busy straightening bureau drawers, washing odds-and-ends, and cleaning the medicine closet. You know, I've never seen a medicine closet that accumulates pills; bottles, holding one or two drops of some once-important liquid; and twisted tubes of balm, the way ours does. And is there anything in the world that looks quite so insignificant as a pill, once you've forgotten what it was good for? One more thought on the subject of medicine cabinets — if a prize were offered to the household owning the most safety razors, ours would win hands down. We have them in all shapes, sizes, and virtually, covering a period of years. Maybe I should write a treatise on the subject of "Safety in Shaving."

Which brings us, I presume, right into the men's toiletry department of Wyckoff's. It adjoins our cosmetics department, and sometimes seems to me the most sadly "neglected-by-customers" corner of our store. Just how many dollars worth of men's sweet-smelling lotions and creams we sell per year, I don't know . . . but it is very true that when a man's name appears on the gift list, one thinks in terms of shirts, ties—long or bow, socks, cigarettes or pipe tobacco. Yet I really believe that most men would like a really fine shaving cream and after-shave lotion . . . or a manly cologne . . . or some good soap. It's something to think about while you compile those Christmas lists of yours.

Stopping to chat with Ann Wyckoff in our gift department the other day, I noticed one of our new tiles in a tweedy gray and white design, held firmly upright on wrought iron legs. "These I love," Ann pointed out. "They're electrified, for keeping things hot right on the table." Funny I'd never noticed that, but I hadn't. The tile is twice the thickness of most tiles, and there is an electric cord that will plug into an outlet somewhere near your dining table. The price is $4.98, and Marion Leedom says that the tile is so durable, it can be heated to a crisp, then washed in cold water, and won't even break. Not that we recommend such treatment, of course—it's always wise to be cautious . . . If I could choose from any cutting board I've ever seen, I'd settle for the one that has a gaily colored tree with the names of all the herbs and spices for leaves. It's bright as sunshine against a dull gray finish . . . Something new in tweezers are the E-Z-Cs, to be found now at $1 in our cosmetic department. Having a small magnifying glass, framed in tortoise, attached to the side, one can easily see a stray hair and get it at the root of it . . . $5 is the price of Chinese silk evening purses that are so small they fit into the palm of your hand. You'll find these in cosmetics too—a lovely array of colors and patterns to choose from. These are complete with tiny compacts about the size of 50c pieces and covered in matching silk. Glorious Christmas gifts these, for the other girls in the office . . . And have you seen our beautiful Granite hose in plum, dark green, deep blue and other fall colors? They're drastically different, but they do for an ensemble what whipped cream does for a piece of apple pie.

Moscow Views Paris Events Seriously

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The seriousness with which Moscow views the events in Paris last week was demonstrated by the swiftness of its action attempting to counter them.

The fact that the latest Soviet move calling for another four-power meeting is transparent in its design does not rob it of its power. Actually the real meaning behind the Soviet note seems to be that the time for a showdown in Europe is close.

The Soviet bid probably will be rejected, at least by Britain and the United States, and will be turned back by the present French government too, if it intends to stand by the agreements it signed last week.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov clearly had telegraphed his blow. It had been confidently expected, and the Russians in the past several weeks did little to hide their plan.

The note was based simply on one outstanding factor—the necessity for both West German and French Parliaments to ratify the London-Paris agreements. Nobody knows better than Moscow that the "hopes of London" still have not been transformed into the "realities of Paris," as Secretary of State Dulles so fervently wished.

Secretary Dulles represented the Paris accord on West German participation in the North Atlantic Alliance as signed, sealed and delivered. That still may be a trifle over-optimistic. It was signed and sealed over the weekend, but it is still not delivered.

The French Communist party at a recent meeting of its politburo laid its plans for moves to come. French Communist boss Maurice Thorez told the party the agreements reached by Premier Mendes-France with the other European governments still remained agreements in principle, and would not be translated into action until the ratification by the parliaments involved. To prevent that, Thorez called upon the party to join with all forces, no matter of what political coloration, to defeat ratification.

Moscow and the French Communists are quite aware that, after all the comforts of Premier Mendes-France to satisfy his country's craving for utter security, the National Assembly now comes up against the harsh facts of life once again. It must vote to accept or reject rearmament of West Germany. It does this with a combination of thinly veiled threats and attractive lures.

To France, Molotov said that by continuing to pursue a goal of bringing West Germany into the NATO framework "the French government takes upon itself the responsibility for the consequences of such a policy which is incompatible with the interests of security in Europe."

To the Germans, Molotov said that if the decisions of Paris were carried out "it will not be possible to regard West Germany as a peace-loving state and this will make impossible for a long time to come the restoration of the unity of Germany." This bites.

Thus the Moscow note's power. It holds out on the one hand the hope to Germans that if they do not tie themselves irrevocably to rearmament within NATO, they might achieve the reunification of their country. That still is the abiding hope of a majority of West Germans. On the other hand, it holds out to the French the hope that security can be achieved by negotiation without the arming of a neighbor the French still fear. While those hopes exist, the Paris agreements still have a rough road to travel.

People Had Smart Ideas But No Plans

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—People had smart ideas, but trouble in carrying them out last week.

A fellow named Albert Cohen spent a whole day passing out 500 match books bearing his smiling countenance and announcing his candidacy for the Colorado House of Representatives. Then he spent all the next day trying to collect them again. It seems they also bore a plea to vote for "this Republican candidate." Cohen is a Democrat.

A gentleman was visiting a lady in Tulsa, Okla., when she advised him her returning husband might resent his presence. This gentleman had the right idea: to get out. But he went the wrong way—to the attic. The attic floor gave way and one leg plunged through the ceiling below, trapping him. Police turned him loose.

A dump truck driver in Jacksonville, Fla., was correct in raising the truck body to get rid of his consignment. The only trouble was he forgot to lower it. Result: wires and two poles knocked down with telephones out of commission in the entire neighborhood.

When Harley Emers Bailey Sr. of Corpus Christi, Tex., first got his driver's license, they told him to put out his hand when he wanted to make a turn. He did just that last week and a wasp stung him. His car jumped a curb, struck a tree and plowed into a fence.

A man from Buffalo wrecked his car on a curve near Fort Erie, Ont., Oct. 11. Last week, driving a new car, the same man cautiously approached the same curve . . . damage this time $500.

A liquor store owner in North Hollywood, Calif., figures the right idea was to ask for sympathy when a man came in and pointed a pistol at him. He said he'd just started in business. "I'm just starting in business too," said the gunman, leaving with $260.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meisell, Bethlehem; Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Meisell, daughter Donna, Stroudsburg, were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Meisell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tonkin, daughter Joan, son Fred, Easton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Faulstick, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Budge.

Mrs. Russell Bobst, and Mrs. Russell Kresge transacted business in Easton Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Post, daughter Brenda, Tannersville, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hammon, Haverhill, N. H.; Mrs. E. A. Serfass, Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schuler, Neola, called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butts this week.

ANTONIO MARTINI, 64, a San Francisco elevator operator, is shown after his arrest in connection with a murder that took place 35 years ago in New York City. Police said Martini, whose real name is Martinico, was traced through his fingerprints. He is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Antonio Carratulo, shot to death in front of Martini's Bowery restaurant. Carlo Barbara was convicted of the shooting and served a prison term of 16 years.

Want Post In Defense Department

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24 (AP)—Directors of the National Defense Transportation Assn. today recommended creation of the post of assistant or deputy administrator in the Office of Defense Mobilization with wide authority for transportation planning for war or other emergencies.

The action followed a report by the group's program and activities committee which noted that "a terrific potential of conflicting claims on our national transportation could face us on D-Day with civil defense, industry, the Defense Dept., agriculture and others all clamoring for a share of that commodity called lift."

E. G. Plowman of Pittsburgh was re-elected president.

U. N. Second Step Toward Solid Peace

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—Sir Percy Spender, Australian ambassador to Washington, called the United Nations tonight "a second step along the right road" to world peace.

In a U. N. day speech at Wilkes College, at a city wide meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters, Spender said "The League of Nations was a failure and to date the United Nations has not had a great deal more success."

But after noting that it was a step, he went on in his prepared speech to say "we should not criticize the structure when it does not work as we had hoped it would. Instead, we should continue patiently to seek the right spirit to make it viable."

The Australian ambassador, now head of his delegation to the U. N. General Assembly and its spokesmen in disarmament debates, said the Soviet Union was greatly to blame for a lack of unanimity and mutual confidence among U. N. members.

During World War II the Dutch underground used the name of Scheveningen, a coastal city, as a test to unmask German agents. Only a Netherlander can pronounce it correctly.

Whitehall High Turns Stroudsburg Into Fourth Victim, 32-7

Zephyrs Keep Perfect Loop Mark Intact

WHITEHALL — Whitehall High School took a big stride toward the Lehigh Valley League football championship here Saturday by pouncing Stroudsburg into a 32-7 defeat before a mediocre crowd.

The loss, second of the season for the Mountaineers, was the first inflicted in league competition and dropped the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis off the pace being set by the Zephyrs, who now own a league mark of four wins and no defeats.

Going into Saturday's tussle Stroudsburg had won two, tied one and hadn't suffered a circuit setback.

For a few fleeting moments in the first half it appeared as if Stroudsburg was going to vault into first place when the visiting crew presented two serious threats in the early moments of the contest, as the Whitehall defense appeared confused.

Mixing passes and ground plays, Paul "Doc" Lim directed the Mountaineers 45 yards to the Whitehall three. The drive was made possible when Doug Shook recovered a home team fumble.

But when Stroudsburg reached the three, with first down and goal to go, the drive stalled and the Mountaineers were pushed back to the eight where Whitehall took over.

Shook picked up another Whitehall fumble later in the period and Stroudsburg drove to the Zephyr's 10, but once again the drive stalled. Whitehall threatened to turn the game into a rout in the second quarter, but the Mountaineers fought back to trail by only five points at halftime, 12-7.

Dick Koze, currently leading the Lehigh Valley League in scoring, registered his ninth touchdown of the season when he blasted off left tackle for the score. The touchdown was made possible by a 14-yard run by Dave Way. John Habern's extra point attempt from placement was low.

Stroudsburg fumbled on the third play following the kickoff and Whitehall's Howard Berner made the recovery on the 12. Way went to the eight and on the next play quarterback Bob Marks pitched to Koze in the flat and the fleet back ran the remainder of the distance for his 10th touchdown of the season and Whitehall's second of the game. Bill Stout blocked Habern's extra point attempt.

The Mountaineers flashed to their only score of the game in the late minutes of the first period as the visiting contingent drove 60 yards, with Roger Lane and Don Deibler doing most of the carrying. The scoring play was a pass from Lim to Deibler, who made the catch on the eight and trotted into paydirt. Shook added the extra point.

Stroudsburg received the second half kickoff and opened a strong offensive push, picking up three first downs on five plays and apparently headed for a touchdown.

But a Lim pass was intercepted by Charley Roth and Whitehall ran wild the remainder of the game.

The third home town touchdown came on a 60 yard drive which required five plays to complete as Koze and Way picked up huge chunks of yardage on end runs. Way circled his own left end for one yard and the touchdown. Habern kicked the extra point.

Whitehall picked up two insurance touchdowns in the final period. Koze registered his 11th six-pointer of the season by taking a screen pass from Marks and racing 35 yards. Dave Nevil, Stroudsburg end and linebacker, blocked the extra point attempt.

Bill Schrader also scored in the final period by drilling over from the one to culminate a 30-yard drive. Habern added the final extra point.

Collingdale High Star Scores Forty Points Against Media

COLLINGDALE — Jimmy Cox, brilliant Collingdale High halfback, accounted for a total of 40 points here Saturday afternoon as Collingdale swarmed over an outclassed Media eleven, 47-0.

Cox, a junior, is the same star performer who galloped to four touchdowns and had three other touchdowns and had three other touchdowns recalled against East Stroudsburg High the previous week. Collingdale took the measure of the Cavaliers, 32-7.

Saturday's one-man offensive show set a school individual scoring record. Cox tallied six touchdowns and registered four conversions from placement for his 40-point total.

As things turned out, "Chuck" Kane's 35-yard run with a recovered fumble in the first minute of play would have been enough, but the sparse gathering was given a treat that comes only once in a lifetime when Cox began to get rolling.

Following Kane's score, after which he booted the point, Cox accounted for three more touchdowns in the period, which found Collingdale leading 27-0. Cox first plunged from the one, after a 69-yard drive; returned a pass interception 55 yards, then traveled 73 yards with a punt return.

His fourth TD came in the second period on a 36-yard off-tackle burst to culminate an 82-yard, three-play drive. Cox was on the receiving end of two long passes from Bob Whitaker to account for the other 46 yards.

Cox, who has given fine blocking from the precision-working line headed by Al Phillips, Bill Ward and "Bud" Kane, turned in the gem of the day when he scooted 81 yards with the kickoff to open the second half, then wound up proceedings with a six-yard plunge in the final quarter.

Collingdale now has a record of five wins and one defeat.

Eight Horses Entered

HALLANDALE, Fla., Oct. 24 — The Locust Farm Stable, non de course of Paul Sedar, chairman of the Illinois Racing Commission, will be represented by eight horses at Gulfstream Park during the approaching winter season. Del Carroll will be in charge of the contingent.

Stroudsburg received the second half kickoff and opened a strong offensive push, picking up three first downs on five plays and apparently headed for a touchdown.

But a Lim pass was intercepted by Charley Roth and Whitehall ran wild the remainder of the game.

The third home town touchdown came on a 60 yard drive which required five plays to complete as Koze and Way picked up huge chunks of yardage on end runs. Way circled his own left end for one yard and the touchdown. Habern kicked the extra point.

Notre Dame Star Hopes For Pro Career

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 24 (AP)—Notre Dame has been derailed in its bid for an undefeated football season, Irish quarterback Ralph Guglielmi appears destined to win up prime pro ball.

The 20-year-old Guglielmi started his senior season by almost personally defeating Texas, 21-0. He scored two touchdowns on short smashes, passed to the third and ruined the Longhorns' passing attack with three brilliant interceptions.

Riding Ralph, from Columbus, Ohio, modestly commented after that superb opening performance: "Aw, there were 10 good men playing in front of me."

The clean-cut, boyish Guglielmi has a quiet, confident air and generally gives the off-the-field appearance of a good piano player or perhaps the captain of the campus debating team.

But he can mix it with the roughest of them and he has his sights set on professional football, "if anybody wants me."

He is a member of Notre Dame's ROTC, may face military service after graduation, although he hopes he might get in at least one season of pro ball before he might be called.

Guglielmi brushes off the many pre-season predictions he will prove the star back of the year.

"Everything is team work at Notre Dame and my main concern is being a helpful cog in a good machine," says Ralph. "If we have success, it is because we work as a unit and nobody knows that any better than the quarterback."

Last season, Guglielmi under Coach Frank Leahy—who tabbed him potentially better than Johnny Lujack—directed the Irish to an unbeaten, but once-tied (down) record. He completed 52 of 113 passes for 792 yards and eight touchdowns, and scored six times.

In Notre Dame's first three games against Texas, Purdue and Pittsburgh this year, Ralph was setting an even better passing pace with 20 hits in 39 passes for 213 yards and a 513 completion mark against 460 in 1953.

Guglielmi, of Italian descent, is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds. He is seeking his fourth Irish letter, and has it, even though Notre Dame's greatest strength is at his position with veteran Tom Carey and a talented sophomore, Paul Hornung, backing him up.

Homer Slugger Not Anxious To Advance

By ROBERT GREEN

ROSWELL, N. M., Oct. 24 (AP)—Why hasn't big Joe Bauman gone any higher than class "AA" baseball?

After all, he smashed a record 72 home runs in 1954.

Managers who have seen the hulking first baseman in action will give you a wide variety of reasons.

"Can't hit good pitching," they say of the class "C" Longhorn League player, "too slow . . . Can't field well enough . . . too old . . . can't hit left handers."

Then a couple of days later, these same managers will start thinking . . . "He does hit the best in this league . . . Always had around 30 to 40 homers no matter where he played . . . Covers as much ground defensively as a small man twice his speed . . ."

Just why hasn't he gone higher than his one year in the Eastern League and a brief stay with Little Rock in the Southern Association?

The 35-year-old Bauman isn't quite sure. But he says he isn't going anywhere.

Bauman thinks three years in the Navy and three years of semi-pro ball in Oklahoma kept him back. Right now, he's pretty well set to stay in this little "C" league where they play 140 games a year and where he is approaching the status of a legend.

"I haven't had an offer to go higher," says Bauman. "And I probably wouldn't go anyhow, I'm pretty well set here. I figure I'll play the rest of my ball for the Roswell Rockets."

Bauman gets better with age. He was past 30 when he hit 49 homers. Then came 50 with Artesia, and 53 the next year.

When the 240-pound six foot five southpaw hit 72 for Roswell he also batted an even .400, drove home 224 runs with 456 total bases.

Bauman fars know his failings—lack of speed and trouble hitting left handers.

They tell the story of the time Bauman slammed a homer and a double off Audley Malone, a natural right hander. Malone, a bit embarrassed, shifted his glove the next time Bauman came to bat and proceeded to pitch left-handed. He fanned the big slugger on four pitches.

Another time Bauman smashed a liner to the right-center field wall. The right and center fielders chased the rebound and collided. When they started to relay the ball back to the infield there was Bauman calmly patting his foot on first base.

Russians Eye Olympics

By The Associated Press

THE BOYS in the Kremlin have their eyes on the 1956 Olympics and expect to have their girl athletes rack up a high total of points.

If the European Track and Field Championships held at Bern, Switzerland, are any indication, the Soviet athletic planners are moving according to schedule.

The Russian staffers dominated the program, winning eight of the 11 events.

As was shown in the 1952 Olympics the Russian girls were tops in the heavy field events such as shot put, discus and pentathlon. This time, however, they swept the running events, too.

Irina Turova won the 100 meter dash in a photo finish. Marija Pitkina took the 200 meters. The 800 meter run was a tight duel between Diane Leather of Great Britain and Nina Orskalenko of Russia with the latter winning.

The Soviet's Alexandra Chudina scored 4,536 points for the pentathlon title. The 80 meter hurdles went to Marija Golubitschaja who set a meet record with a time of 11 seconds flat.

The Russian girls were victorious in the 400 meter relay, also establishing a meet mark.

As expected Galina Sybina, the Olympic champion, won the shot put with a heave of 51 feet, four and one eighth inches. Two of her

Eagles Lose Walston For Three Weeks

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24 (AP)—Philadelphia Eagles end Bobby Walston, leading scorer in the National Football League, suffered a fractured jaw in last night's 17-7 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers and is expected to be out three weeks.

Walston, in addition to being the Eagles' leading pass catcher this year, also handled extra point and field goal duties in compiling 71 points through the Eagles' first five games.

Either rookie guard Mervil Mayraides of Notre Dame or linebacker Chuck Bednarik is expected to handle Walston's kicking duties.

Don Luft, rookie from Indiana, will probably fill in at end.

RILEY

Sports Editor

Football excitement hit the heights and the depths over the past weekend as far as local schools, spectators and players were concerned. The heights were hit last Friday night when East Stroudsburg State Teachers College scored a 14-13 victory over West Chester. This was the first time since 1942 that the charges of Coach Gene Martin had defeated the Rams. The depths were touched Saturday afternoon when Stroudsburg was crushed by Whitehall High, 32-7.

I would at this time like to say that Stroudsburg was upended by a better team, but I honestly can't make a statement of that nature. In all fairness to Coach Willie Piff, the Whitehall players and fans, I will say that the team that wanted to win most finished on the long end of the score. This wasn't the type Whitehall teams we've witnessed in action in past years. It had nobody on the field who could carry the shoes of such stars as Dick Merkle and Charley German, who sparked the club last year.

Whitehall's club is as big as usual, but it's present brand of razz-dazzle is far below par. The Zepphys didn't rattle, nor did they dazzle. They just took advantage of spiritless play by Stroudsburg's grid machine and walked to their fourth straight league victory and gained a firmer hold on first place in the present circuit standings. The Zepphys had plenty of spirit and played as if they realized just how important Saturday's encounter was to their cause.

But the same understanding wasn't present in the Stroudsburg camp. True, the Mountaineers demonstrated flashes of their fine form a time or two, but never were they the same collection of football players who battled so gallantly against Bangor the previous week. The Mountaineers didn't seem to understand that they were back in Lehigh Valley League competition and that every win was worth its weight in gold. They didn't appear to realize that they were up against the top team in the standings and that a victory would have put Stroudsburg into first place.

I heard both head coach Jerry Stulgaitis and line mentor John Whitehead instruct players both before the game and at halftime. Yet, I saw four players do exactly the opposite of what they were told, almost on the first plays of the first and third periods. The only difference between Saturday's loss and the lacing inflicted by Northampton last season is that they occurred one year apart.

It was a crying shame to see so many students and adults rooting for the Mountaineers and a victory that might lead to a championship, only to have the opposition score almost at will through the second half. It was the second time in less than a year that the people of Stroudsburg had their hopes built to high levels and then dashed to the ground in much the same manner as an egg dropped from a second story window.

Stroudsburg missed two golden opportunities to score in the first period. The visitors rushed to the three-yard stripe, where they had first down and goal to go. Four plays later Whitehall took over on the eight yard stripe. A short time later the Stulgaitis men marched to the 10, where the attack stalled once again. Whitehall quickly scored two touchdowns and led 12-0 in the second period. The Mountaineers rallied and Doug Shook added the extra point and trailed by only five points at halftime.

The Mountaineers registered three first downs on the first five plays of the third period and appeared ready to battle like the team we all have become accustomed to seeing in action this season. But a Whitehall line backer picked off a stray pass at this point and as far as Stroudsburg was concerned the game was over. The Zepphys swept the ends almost unopposed the remainder of the afternoon and scored a total of 20 points in the last 24 minutes of action.

Not only was the loss hard to take and the action of several players hard to understand, but it means a complete rebuilding of the team at this late date. I feel certain that several first stringers fought their way to the third team, plus the fact that every school to be played by Stroudsburg during the remainder of the season was represented by at least two scouts at Saturday's game. This means a new defense will have to be constructed, dealing mainly with stopping those sweeping end runs, and many little odds and ends will have to be shifted in order to combat future opponents.

East Stroudsburg Falls Before Wilson Borough, 35-21

Price Paces Warriors To League Win

WILSON BOROUGH—East Stroudsburg High School's injury riddled football contingent went down to its third defeat of the present campaign by dropping a 35-21 verdict to power-packed Wilson Borough here on the winning squad's home field Saturday afternoon.

Don Price, brilliant Wilson back, paced his undefeated mates to the favorable decision that leaves Wilson and Nazareth as the only two undefeated grid machines in the Lehigh Valley League at the present time.

Wilson, using a total of 35 players, scored in every period and had two touchdowns recalled in the first quarter.

Price, regarded as one of the greatest players in the history of the Lehigh-Northampton League, scored two touchdowns and helped to spark the Warriors to three other tallies.

The hard running halfback opened the scoring in the first period by galloping 55 yards off tackle for a touchdown. He came back in the final round to culminate a 60-yard march by going over from the 15-yard stripe.

Wilson's second first period six pointer was registered by Eddie Van Horn who caught a 20-yard pass from Price.

The Warriors picked up a lone touchdown in the second period when Pete Korn heaved a 15-yard aerial to Carl Marinelli. In the third quarter Dick Rogers crashed over from the one yard line after a pass from Price to Marinelli, which covered 49 yards, set up the score.

East Stroudsburg got into the scoring act for the first time in the second quarter on a run of 40 yards by Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, who took a screen pass from Dick Gray.

The Cavaliers didn't penetrate the Wilson endzone again until the final period, when they tallied twice.

Kupiszewski tossed a 23-yard pass to Jim Kimler for the second touchdown, while the third was scored on a brilliant 79-yard punt return by Bill Sommers, recently restored to active duty after suffering a slight fracture of the left ankle. The first touchdown in the fourth quarter came at the end of a 40-yard drive.

All eight extra points were registered from placement. Mike Palmisano booted three for the visiting Cavaliers, while Russ Fretz sent five attempts through the uprights for the host machine.

East Stroudsburg now has lost to Wilson, Bangor and Collingdale, while earning victories over Hellertown, Slatington, Pen Argyl and Lehigh. The charges of Coach Jack Kist battle Copley at Memorial Stadium next Friday night.

Wilson, loser to Phillipsburg and held to a 7-7 tie by Easton, is undefeated in league play to date. Nazareth is also undefeated at the present time. These two teams battle on Thanksgiving Day.

Steelers Earn Deadlock For Division Lead

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers are tied today with the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants for first place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League after defeating the Eagles 17-7 last night.

The Giants forged the three-way deadlock today by defeating the Washington Redskins 24-7. The

Varona Battles Bratton Tonight In One Of Several Welterweight Bouts Listed This Week

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WITH A NEW champion ruling the division, action picks up this week in the welterweight class in a series of bouts involving "name" fighters like Johnny Bratton of Chicago, Del Flanagan of St. Paul and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J.

There was to have been one title bout at Tokyo Tuesday but it was postponed when challenger Pascual Perez of Argentina developed an ear ailment. The flyweight championship defense by Oshio Shirai may be cancelled.

Featherweight Champion "Sandy" Saddler is the only titleholder in action. The New York Negro boxer France's Ray Farnochon tonight in Paris in a non-title bout. Farnochon once challenged for the crown when Willie Pep held it.

Bratton, who has been out of action since he was involved in another Philadelphia "stinker" with Johnny Saxton, gets back to work tonight at St. Nicholas Arena against "Chico" Varona of Havana. Varona trained for the fight at Harry's Farm, Columbia, N. J.

Flanagan, the number two contender in most ratings, meets young Maurice Harper of Oakland in a Wednesday 10-rounder at San Francisco. Flanagan is one of the two to beat Saxton in his pro career.

Martinez attracted national attention by knocking out "Chuck" Davey and giving Art Aragon a bad beating last summer. He swings into action at Madison Square Garden Friday against Carmine Fiore, the Brooklyn left hooker who lost to Carmen Basilio in his last start.

When Saddler finally gets around to defending his feather title, one of the new boys who must be considered as a challenger of the future is Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn who stakes his unbeaten record tonight at Eastern Parkway against Rudy Garcia. Costa has 23 victories and three draws in 26 starts, his last being a decision over Gene Smith in an exciting bout.

Boston has a heavyweight rematch Tuesday between Bert Whitcomb of Baltimore and Sailor Ed Sanders of Boston.

Temple Springs Major Upset In Pennsylvania Grid Ranks

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITTSBURGH won its second straight under interim coach Tom Hamilton. Temple needed the Philadelphia famine. Penn State bungled its way to a second straight defeat. Bucknell, Juniata, P. M. C., Carnegie Tech and Bloomsburg remained undefeated and untied.

Not one member of the East Stroudsburg team broke into the 200 circle. Jack Darr and Tom Sommers were high in the single game tabulation with 196 and 189, respectively.

Jake Nittel and John Javitt shared top match score in a losing cause, each posting a 539.

"Clum" Gillyuly was high single kegler for the Fleas Club with a 234 in the opening game, while Russ Price rolled a 217 in the last game. Gillyuly had the top match score of 587, while Price rolled a 554.

Steelers, Eagles and Giants have 4-1 records.

Quarterback Jimmy Finks of the Steelers completed 12 out of 22 passes for 149 yards. He tossed a 52-yard touchdown pass to end Elbie Nickel in the third quarter and set up a five-yard dash by Lynn Chandrois in the final frame.

Ed Kissel gave the Steelers their first tally with a 24-yard field goal in the second period. He also made both conversions. A crowd of 39,075—biggest for any NFL game at Forbes Field—saw the Eagles march 87 yards to score when Adrian Burk's passes finally began to connect when it counted. Burk and Bobby Thomson threw 18 completed passes out of 34 attempts.

Graham Passes Browns To Victory, 35-3

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (AP)—Aerial wizard Otto Graham passed for one touchdown and sneaked across for two more today to guide the Cleveland Browns to their 10th straight victory over the winless Chicago Cardinals 35-3.

In maintaining their mastery over the Cardinals for the fifth year of National Football League competition, the Browns registered their second triumph of the title campaign for a .500 rating in attempting to defend their Eastern Conference crown.

The Browns' only other league victory so far was 31-7 over the Cardinals in a Wednesday 10-rounder at San Francisco. Flanagan is one of the two to beat Saxton in his pro career.

In addition to Graham's marksmanship—he completed 16 out of 24 for 182 yards—the Browns' also were yards by Maurice Bassett, a 250-pound rookie fullback from Langston University in Oklahoma.

The battering Bassett barreled eight and seven yards for a pair of touchdowns and did some nifty pass catching to keep the Browns rolling in sustained drives.

Teague Named Leading Stock Car Driver

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—Marshall Teague, Daytona Beach, Fla. stock car expert, was announced National Stock Car champion for 1954 by the AAA Contest Board here today.

It is Teague's second Stock Car Championship in three years of competition under the AAA banner. He took the title in 1952, his first year on AAA tracks.

He replaces Frank "Rebel" Mundy of Atlanta, Ga., who captured the 1953 title. Roger Ward was the champion in 1951. Jay Franks earned the honor in 1950.

Teague participated in all 16 championship events in 1954, winning five, finishing second four times and third twice for a total of 2,320 points—exactly one thousand more than his closest rival, Sam Hanis of Burbank, Calif.

Teague's victories were big ones. He won the Milwaukee, Wis., 200 mile, the Phoenix, Ariz., 100 mile, a pair of 100 miles at Pueblo, Col., and a 50-mile feature event at Knoxville, Tenn.—all with his 1954 Hudson Hornet.

Sam Hanis finished second to Teague in the standings on the strength of three second place finishes and a pair of thirds.

Winds Sweep Los Angeles Smog Away

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24 (AP)—Strong winds swept smog out of the Los Angeles Basin today and removed the need for Gov. Goodwin Knight's demands that oil companies close refineries.

"Obviously there is no point in such a shutdown during a period of smog-free days," the governor said. But he warned that the change in the weather "should not be the cause for complacency."

The Weather Bureau said winds which buffeted the nearby desert areas with 25 to 40 m.p.h. blows would bring a few days' smog relief.

"I hope that the oil industry will take advantage of this period to plan for an effective test shutdown the very next time we are confronted with a serious smog situation," the governor said. He emphasized that he was still "firmly convinced" the solution to smog problems requires closing refineries for an "adequate test period."

Gov. Knight announced yesterday that he is allocating $100,000 to attempt to study the health aspects of smog.

Snow, Rain Pelts West Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SNOW PILED up in sections of Montana Sunday as rain pelted Texas coastal areas—but much of the rest of the nation enjoyed an Indian summer treat.

While a backlog of four inches of snow accumulated at Ely and Lewistown, Mont., overnight temperatures zoomed 10 to 22 degrees above normal in New England.

The snow in the northern Rockies also visited areas of northern Utah, Nevada and Colorado.

The snow, accompanied by cold air, pushed minimum mercury readings from 5 to 18 degrees lower than normal Saturday night over most of the northern Rockies, the Plateau States and Western Plains. Readings hovered from 20 to 30 degrees in most areas.

Showers and thunderstorms, meanwhile, soaked the Texas coastal city of Beaumont with 2.05 inches in a 24-hour period. Galveston had .80 inch. Rain also hit parts of southeastern Oklahoma and western Louisiana.

Freighter Freed From Grounding

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 24 (AP)—The Italian freighter Santa Elisabetta ran aground today on Smith Island Shoal, seven miles east of Cape Charles Lightship, but was refloated early tonight without major damage.

The Coast Guard said its cutter, the Cherokee, and the commercial tug Brant pulled the Santa Elisabetta off the shoal at 5:30 p.m. The Brant was to escort the freighter into deeper water.

The Cherokee radioed there appeared no damage of consequence to the ship, which carries a crew of about 40.

The Santa Elisabetta had been en route to Baltimore from Monrovia with a cargo of ore. She is a vessel of 7,300 tons.

New Hopes For World Peace Voiced As United Nations Corps Celebrates Birthday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—New hopes for world peace were voiced here on the U. N.'s ninth birthday today as Assembly delegates, American spokesmen, and secretariat figures joined in a headquarters celebration.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, speaking for the American Assn. for the U. N., which sponsored the program, said she believed she was speaking for all the women of the world in expressing the hope that "no great war will engulf the world."

She said she was grateful for the U. N. and for its growing support in this country.

Eelco N. Van Kieffens, Netherlands diplomat, who is president of the current General Assembly, told his audience which included radio listeners throughout the world "the people of the world look to the U. N. for what they want above all: Peace. . . . It is up to everyone of us to help in bringing peaceful international relations nearer."

Prolonged applause greeted Mrs. Roosevelt except from Soviet delegates. None of the top delegates was present. The ranking Russian was Georgi Zarubin, Soviet ambassador to Washington.

With American Chief Delegate H. C. Lodge Jr. making a U. N. Day in Minneapolis and his deputy in Toledo, the ranking Americans were Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Ade M. Johnson, Washington State labor director, members of the U. S. delegation.

As part of the ceremony, 60 U. N. guards bore in the flags of the U. N. member nations in a splash of color that filled the Assembly hall.

President Eisenhower and two score governors proclaimed a U. N. Day but in Utah and California governors declined to follow suit. Lodge, in a major U. N. speech

THE REAL FACTS FOR VETERANS

AT LAST A LEADER

HERE IS THE TRUTH
ON THE VETERANS
KOREAN BONUS!

State Senator
GEORGE M. LEADER
Member, The American Legion
and Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Democratic Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

The Republican party, in a last-ditch bid for votes, is going through its customary bleeding-hearts routine for the war veterans of Pennsylvania.

The Republican platform of 1954—in furtherance of that bid—promised a bonus for veterans of the Korean war.

NOW THE FACTS ARE—

That in the 1951 session of the State Legislature, the Democratic party sponsored House Bill 1498 which guaranteed payment of a bonus to the men who fought for their country in the Korean amphitheater of war.

AND WHAT HAPPENED TO THE BILL?

It was promptly committed to the Republican-controlled judiciary committee where it died without seeing the light of day.

REMEMBER—THE REPUBLICAN LEADERSHIP KILLED THAT BILL!

And by so doing, they point up neon letters of political fraud their attempt now to make Korean veterans believe that they will legislate a bonus in 1955.

Actually, this is typical of all Republican promises.

JUST LOOK AT THE RECORD!

Take the Republican platform of 1950 and you will find that precious few of its pledges then have been kept by the Fine administration in the last four years.

They Are Long On Promise--Short On Performance

State Senator George M. Leader is on record as stating: "When I am Governor, I will support legislation to pay a bonus to veterans of the Korean War."

Senator Leader, as a member of The American Legion, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is not making that promise idly. As a veteran of World War II, in the Pacific theater of action, he knows that veterans are deserving of every honor and every consideration a grateful state and nation can give them.
